JFK, Negotiators Confer on Developments In Cuba Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy summoned his three Cuban crisis negotiators to the White House today to discuss developments to date in their talks with Soviet and U.N. representatives.

The announcement of the meeting, issued by the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, did not elaborate. One development certain to be on the agenda is the Soviet missile withdrawal.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric confirmed Sunday the United States has counted 42 Russian missiles on ships steaming away from Cuba.

He stressed that without on-site inspection the United States cannot be certain whether the 42 were all Moscow sent in.

"The Soviets said there were 42," he said. "We have counted 42 going out. We saw fewer than 42 in U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

"Until we have so-called on-site inspection of the island of Cuba we could never be sure that 42 was the maximum number the Soviets brought into Cuba."

The negotiators Kennedy will see are: U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson; Charles D. Yost, Stevenson's Security Council deputy, and John J. McCloy, chairman of the President's Cuban crisis coordinating committee.

A delegation spokesman said the three will discuss with the President "developments to date in negotiations on the Cuban question with Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov."

Among matters apparently still unresolved are:

Inspection of Cuba and ships entering Cuba.

Disposition of a score or more Ilyushin-28 medium jet bombers in Cuba which Kennedy included in the category of offensive weapons that had to be withdrawn.

Cuba's U.N. representative Carlos M. Lechuga told reporters on Sunday Cuba has not altered its objection to any inspection of its territory or ships. He said Cuba did not object to inspection of

Tropical Storm Leaves Island Nearly Helpless

One Person Killed, Hundreds Injured, Officials Indicate

HONOLULU (AP) — Typhoon Karen — described as the worst tropical storm in Guam's history — has rendered the island nearly helpless, leaving hundreds injured, at least one dead and an estimated $100 million in damage.

Karen ripped the tiny island — hub of the United States Pacific defense ring — late Sunday night and early Monday, Guam time, with winds estimated at 150 knots.

The Navy's Pacific Fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor said a three-day warning of the big blow "saved countless lives."

Guamanians and U.S. military personnel and their dependents began digging out of the battered island.

Guam's acting governor, Manuel Guerrero, sent an urgent appeal to Washington to rush aid. He said, "entire territory devastated by Typhoon Karen."

Guerrero's message said 95 percent of the island's civilian community, including government employes housing, was useless or destroyed.

Pacific Fleet headquarters said four of every five civilian homes had their roofs blown off.

The acting governor's message said George Washington High and Tumon Junior High schools were destroyed. Guam Memorial Hospital, the island's public works department and utilities agencies were extensively damaged, Guerrero said.

He asked the Office of Emergency Planning to declare Guam a disaster area.

The Navy's report said strongest winds smashed the island Monday morning. First estimates placed property damage at $100 million.

Communications were completely blanked as the storm ripped out antennas and transmitting equipment.

Residents took refuge in storm shelters and government buildings. The Federal Aviation Agency said some dependents were to be evacuated to Wake Island.

The Navy's tracking center at Guam gauged sustained winds of 135 knots Sunday night and early Monday, before personnel were forced to run for shelters. Messages received in Japan said winds gusted to 147 knots before measuring devices broke down.

The island, just a dot on the map, is 30 miles long and four to nine miles wide.

Attendance Meager At Band Concert

A meager crowd of between 100 and 150 persons attended the American Legion Quaker City Band concert Sunday afternoon at the Junior High School.

The concert, held in observance of Veterans Day, was one of the finest ever presented by the band, many of those in attendance declared.

The program was presented under the direction of Karl Meinhardt, director of music at Leetonia High School.

The event was sponsored by Salem Local 222 of the American Federation of Labor.

14 Persons Killed In Weekend Traffic

One — half of Ohio's weekend traffic death toll was run up during the first six hours of the 54-hour period this weekend.

The Associated Press began counting weekend fatalities at 6 p.m. Friday. By Friday midnight, seven traffic deaths were recorded. At least seven more were killed between Friday midnight and Sunday midnight, boosting the weekend's highway death toll to at least 14.

One other death was reported—the poisoning of a Dayton woman who accidentally swallowed bug insecticide which she thought was baking soda.

Two multiple — death accidents were included in Friday night's deadly start. Two Michigan men were killed in a four-car crash on the Toledo — Detroit Expressway, the two Lorain County men died in Wellington when a train struck their car.

Also included in the toll was John E. Orin, 57, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, who was killed in a collision at a Lakewood intersection.

Mr. Orin was a native of Sebring, where he was born Jan. 13, 1905, the son of a Methodist Minister.

He attended Mount Union College in Alliance for three years, starting on the football and basketball teams.

Conservatives, Liberals In Conflict

Battle for Control Of GOP Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The firing on the right and the left already has begun in what promises to be an 18-month battle between conservatives and liberals for control of the Republican party.

By the time the Republican National Convention meets in mid-1964, delegates will have before them the results of presidential primaries, the record of the Republicans in Congress and the performance of party governors in choosing a presidential candidate.

No one is doubting that President Kennedy will be the democratic standard bearer.

Meantime the prospects point to plenty of intraparty battling.

Last Tuesday's election gave both sides some fresh ammunition.

The party's liberals could point to the re-election of Gov. Nelson to the victories in governor races and William W. Scranton in Pennsylvania as marking a trend toward moderation, if not liberalism, with the notation that a liberals won key Senate races in Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif.

Beyond this the liberals could demonstrate to their party brethren that extreme rightism does not pay by citing the defeat of four John Birch Society members in three House races in California and one in Texas.

Against this the conservatives could point to the gain of four new Republican House seats in the South, where the winning margin for either 1964 presidential candidate might lie in results in other sections of the country are close.

They could cite the narrow escape of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., from defeat by a Republican candidate as evidence that there is inbred Dixie antagonism to the Kennedy administration's policies — particularly on integration — that could be reflected by substantial electoral defection from the President in that area in 1964.

The conservatives' biggest victory produced a new contender for national recognition in the re-election of Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

The party conservatives could feel reassured that their viewpoint is going to be amply represented in the minority leadership in the new Congress.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., will be back running the Republican show in the House. In the Senate, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois again will be directing the minority floor operations and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, will be running the GOP Policy Committee.

THEFT IS REPORTED

R. F. Mayhew of 1755 N. Ellsworth Ave., operator of the Economy Wash at Southeast Plaza, told police someone broke into two closets at the Economy Wash and took two dust mops Sunday.

Mayhew also reported that doors to the laundry were damaged.

I wish to thank my many friends, and all those who voted for me and worked for my re-election. I am very grateful for the results attained.

Action Awaited In Hanoverton Case

HANOVERTON — Action was expected to be taken today by Atty. Warren Bettis, village solicitor, on drawing up charges against an adult allegedly involved with a teenage burglary.

Bettis met with Mayor Howard Hart and Constable Roy Painter Sunday afternoon to review probable court transcripts giving testimony by youths involved in the case. Affidavits have also been obtained from four other youths.

The investigation was spurred on by townsmen who met to draw up petitions urging suspension of the village employee. The petitions were signed by 145. Spearheading the drive for the man's suspension are Rev. John Bortler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Alonzo Wise of the First Christian Church.

Hunt for Sea Treasure Town Hall Film Subject

The underwater hunt for several million dollars worth of Spanish coins is the subject of a film and lecture at the second event of the Town Hall series Tuesday at 8:15 at Salem Junior High School.

Guest speaker on the admission-free program is Owen Lee, a diver who took part in the Vigo Bay Expedition in Spain along with others searching for 23 Spanish galleons laden with treasures. He will narrate the film, "Exploring Inner Space," made by underwater expert J. Y. Cousteau.

History records that in 1702 a fleet of 23 Spanish ships carrying millions in silver and gold was sunk in a great sea battle in the Bay of Vigo, Spain. Owen Lee joined an international group 250 years later to hunt for the flotilla and its valuable burden.

Owens, who studied journalism at the University of Missouri, University of London and the Sorbonne in Paris, will present the highlights of his 1,000 hours of sea diving and exploring in various parts of the world.

The film shows the divers' training school in France, the demolition and salvage of a sunken ship which threatened to paralyze the port of Montreal, the sinking of 72-foot sections of steel pipe 4,000 feet long and exploration of an underwater cave.

Lee is a native of Florida and grew up along the Mississippi River. He is the author of a book entitled "All About Diving."

Say Militia Disgruntled

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—This U.S. naval base is a little mine of information about the grim life outside in Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Fifty refugees from Castro are here now, although U.S. officials do not admit this. The Cubans tell of hunger, a shortage of doctors, police-state rule, and disaffection even among the people's militia.

They say the militia, the bulwark of Castro's military position, was disgruntled when it was put on short rice rations after being called up because of fear of a U.S. invasion.

Western intelligence experts estimate Castro has 200,000 men and women in the militia, and a regular army of 80,000 equipped with modern Soviet weapons.

Castro appears now to distrust the militia, refugees say. They report militiamen no longer can keep their rifles and machine guns while off duty and must account for all ammunition issued.

Besides the refugees, who climb the high steel, barbed-wire-topped fences or swim past Communist guards on the seaward side, Cuban workers at this base also are a source of information on life on the outside.

A worker employed on the base for 20 years said the people were overjoyed when it appeared last month President Kennedy was about to crack down on Castro. But now he said the people are disappointed and downhearted.

"The medical situation in Cuba is very bad," he said. "I heard three days ago my friend died without medical attention. Castro is very short of doctors and he is trying to improvise doctors. Anybody who had any experience is now a doctor.

"In the last 15 months I say maybe 60 per cent of the people are against Castro. In this time

Dystrophy Drive Set Here Sunday

A house-to-house canvass for funds to fight muscular dystrophy will be held in Salem Sunday, in conjunction with the national drive scheduled that day.

The canvass here will begin at 2 p.m.

A number of individuals and organizations have already volunteered their services for the campaign, but many more "marchers" are needed, Eric Nyberg, chairman of the local drive, reports.

Sixteen students of the Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing will canvass parts of the city next Monday.

Funds collected are channeled into research, clinics and patient service, Nyberg said. Sixteen persons are afflicted with the disease in Columbiana County.

The campaign is sponsored throughout the county by the Columbiana County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy, and locally by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary which will serve refreshments to marchers. Miss Jane Royle is chairman of the county-wide campaign. Headquarters of the Salem drive will be located at the Post Home on Arch St.

"Muscular dystrophy is a mysterious disease which progressively invades the voluntary muscles, eventually weakening and disabling its victims to the point where a minor ailment, like a cold, may prove fatal," Nyberg said. "Nothing now known to medical science can arrest the disease which may strike anyone, regardless of race,

Hiss Rips Nixon On TV Program

NEW YORK (AP)—A televised appearance of Alger Hiss on a program entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon" was met Sunday night by a flood of phoned and telegraphed protests, cancellation of the program by several stations and picketing of network studios.

One Midwestern station carrying the program received a bomb threat but it proved to be a fake. Pickets appeared outside studios of the American Broadcasting Co. in New York and Los Angeles.

ABC said the taped program gave an honest summary of Nixon's career, including comments from persons applauding him.

Nixon could not be reached immediately for comment.

The 10 men and women pickets marching outside ABC's main studio here, from where the program was aired, carried signs such as "Why a nationwide forum for a convicted perjurer, Alger Hiss?"

Several ABC-affiliated stations cancelled showing of the program about the former vice president.

The Taft Broadcasting Co. said it ordered the show off its two stations where it had been scheduled, in Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio.

Walter H. Annenberg, editor-publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer and president of Triangle Publications, ordered the program off two Triangle stations in Philadelphia and New Haven, Conn.

Nixon, as a U.S. representative from California, started a 1948 congressional investigation of Hiss, then a high official in the State Department. The probe centered about charges by the late Whittaker Chambers that Hiss had been a member of a Communist underground cell.

Hiss later was convicted of perjury for denying he passed information to the Russians. Now out of prison, he is a New York City printing salesman.

ABC commentator Howard K. Smith taped the television program after Nixon's defeat in the California gubernatorial election last Tuesday.

After his unsuccessful attempt to unseat Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Nixon issued a statement the next day indicating he was retiring from politics.

Is Billie Sol Estes Forgotten?

In one of those masterpieces of timing too wonderful to have been accidental, a Texas jury did not get the case of Billie Sol Estes for decision until the day after the congressional elections in the United States. A couple hours later he had been found guilty, as charged.

It wasn't so much that Billie Sol was in danger of being forgotten. He will be remembered a long time. He is a living legend.

It was the oddity that the wheeling and dealing Texan whose financial operations were so startling when revealed last spring that alarmists compared their impact with Teapot Dome and the Adams-Goldfine connection was cooled off and shelved for the duration of the campaign.

Once his case had gone to the jury it was decided in jig-time. He was found guilty on charges of fraudulent misrepresentation and illegally gained possession of a mortgage from a Texas cotton farmer. If his lawyers cannot get a new trial, the Texas financier now faces a sentence of eight years in prison.

This would be a drab anticlimax to what everybody expected was going to be the sensation of 1960—the Democratic scandal to offset the Adams-Goldfine episode—the one that was going to blow the Department of Agriculture off its foundations — the scandal that was going to pull the string on agricultural giveaways.

It had all started last February when a little Texas newspaper wondered why there were more fertilizer bank mortgages around Pecos than fertilizer tanks. It asked the question. The answer didn't explode until springtime. And by the Wednesday afternoon election day the case was pretty well quieted down.

Never was so much potential excitement hushed up so successfully, considering how many cases with no noticeable potentiality have been drummed into sensations.

A Time For Bowing Out

Much is being made of Richard Nixon's bitterness against the press in his final public appearance after losing the California governorship to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In deference to his long service as Republican stalwart, little will be made of another aspect of the former vice president's final public appearance. But it must be given attention too.

Why must it be his final public appearance? What requires him to bow out of politics because he lost the California governorship?

He still is the Republican presidential candidate who came within a technical whisker of winning the 1960 election and probably would have won it if his party had controlled the election apparatus in a few large cities. Why was it taken for granted that he would be through if he lost in California?

THERE IS A time for bowing out in politics.

Mr. Nixon has reached that time. He has nothing to gain by staying in politics as a loser. The Republican party would have something to lose if he did not understand this.

... And One Other Detail

In the coldly objective appraisal of Russian military hardware in Cuba that must be made in the near future, one fact will loom large.

The United States does not know how much hardware was taken to Cuba and will have no way of knowing what fraction of the total supply will have been taken out.

All it has to help it is its own photographs of the hardware that lay within camera range. What it didn't see might very well be the hardware it needs to worry about most. And what the Russians might not be planning to take away might well be the part that could do the greatest damage.

Indifference?

Sixty-two Salem men paid the supreme penalty during World War II and nine others perished in the Korean conflict.

There are many of us who have been touched by or have felt the tragedies of conflict, yet a new generation today knows only about the second world war through textbooks and films. Some can't even recall the Korean war which ended almost 10 years ago.

Time erases many things but not the memories of a son, husband, a sweetheart or a comrade who gave his life in battle because the threat at that time was real and terrible.

As a community, though, perhaps we have forgotten. No monument or marker has ever been erected here in tribute to those who died for the cause of freedom and human dignity.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Like other Yankee Doodles sizzling with patriotism I was glad to hear V. K. Krishna Menon had been given the ax in India. He was nasty about us. But I keep remembering a girl who sunned herself last summer in the yard of the house where we stayed in Oxford . . . a niece of Krishna Menon, we were told. I hope she isn't being turned out into the cold.

I enjoy looking at advertising in the New Yorker, whose pitch is snob appeal. They show what Madison Avenue thinks status seekers want most—and it's fun to watch the ad men creep up on you to enlist you in their crusade to make the world unsafe for people who don't feel snobbish.

Samuel Lubell, the political pulse-feeler, has felt something that has been bothering me—popular revulsion against a kind of campaigning that insults intelligence because it is designed to appeal to the unintelligent—the voting masses. Here it is again, the thing that hurt the movies and cripples television—contempt for the intelligence of the masses.

Word is out via Wall Street Journal that the cost of "Cleopatra" has gone over $35 million, most expensive movie ever made, that it will run about four hours when they get it into shape and won't be shown until sometime next Spring. Meanwhile, the Fisher boy, the Burton boy and the Taylor girl all have gone their separate ways, hi-de-hum-dee-ho.

I enjoy watching the slow-motion growth of vegetation in the cold months, particularly dandelions, and for many years have picked a nosegay of dandelions every Sunday for the lady I eat breakfast with.

The modern version of the tortoise and the hare is the football back who can't make a race of it against the sprinters yet is able to stay on his feet and sidestep would-be tacklers. He looks good only during game conditions and usually is unrecognized by the coaches, who have eyes only for the sprinters.

Remembering how enjoyable it was to lay up a stone wall last summer I tried my hand at it this month and gave it up as a bad job. The stones were cold, hard to handle and refused to stay where they had been placed. It looks as if "Twill Henge" will have to wait until next June.

Unlike recent years when most autos appeared misshapen and ugly, with only a few exceptions, this year's models all look clean and attractive—no exceptions. I believe this means that in the future all external designs will be similar and the selling points will be interior gimmicks.

One guess about Cuba is as good as another, but my guess is the Russians wanted us to see the missile bases they erected there, wanted us to demand their removal and welcomed a chance to dismantle them, possibly because they were having a problem with Fidel Castro, who may have been demanding the installations as a token of good intent.

Soviets Have Made Many Treaties, Honored Few

By PETER EDSON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Great diplomatic care is being exercised to make it appear that any settlement of current disputes between the free and Communist worlds is being handled through the United Nations, with approval of the Warsaw Pact countries on one side, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Organization of American States on the other.

There is no question, however, that President Kennedy and Russian Chairman Nikita Khrushchev are the two principal figures in the Cuba dispute or any settlement coming from it.

Washington experts do not hold to the theory that Khrushchev is a prisoner of his colleagues in the Kremlin, doing only what they direct or approve. He is believed to be making the major Russian decisions himself, moving whenever he sees an opening to exploit.

On the other hand, Kennedy made the decision to reject Khrushchev's offer to dismantle Cuban missile bases in exchange for dismantling NATO missile bases in Turkey.

The President also acted fast, answering Khrushchev's letter before it was even delivered. The NATO allies were informed of this action and their approval obtained later.

Similarly, the President ordered the U.S. Navy blockade of Cuba, then got the approval of the OAS Council later.

BUT THE NEXT ACTS in this world-wide drama will be on the United Nations stages in New York. Any agreement for inspection to verify that Russian missile bases in Cuba have been where they came from will be a U.N. operation to which Russia and the United States must agree.

The question therefore arises as to how good any agreement with the Russians on this specific issue will be.

The same question arises with respect to the larger nuclear test ban and disarmament issues, accepted by both Kennedy and Khrushchev as subjects for necessary and immediate negotiations.

In this connection, Stanford University Press has just published a 600-page study on "The Theory, Law and Policy of Soviet Treaties." It is the work of Stanford political scientist John F. Triska and Johns Hopkins history lecturer Robert M. Slusser. Under the sponsorship of the Herbert Hoover Institution at Stanford, the two scholars have reviewed the 2,500 international agreements signed by Russia from 1917 through 1957.

HERE IN SUMMARY are some of their findings relevant to the present situation in which world peace is at stake:

"The greater the importance of a treaty and the more directly it relates to long-run Soviet objectives, the poorer are the chances that it will be observed by the Russians.

"Soviet international law specialists have repeatedly demonstrated that they are able to provide promptly and efficiently a defense for any action taken by Soviet leaders on foreign policies, no matter how crude a violation of the commonly recognized principles of international law it may be."

In spite of these findings, Triska and Slusser conclude that "America and the West should continue to seek carefully drawn international agreements with Russia, despite her distinctly poor record of honoring past treaties."

ON THE BASIS OF A 40-year record, however, they warn:

"Any state concluding an agreement with the Soviet Union should recognize that Soviet ideologists stand ready at all times to provide reasons why the treaty is no longer valid and why it should be unilaterally abrogated.

"Another cardinal point is the need for precise formulation of any agreement with the Soviet Union. This means a total ban on agreements susceptible to a variety of interpretations, for instance, oral agreements.

"Agreements with the Soviet Union should contain clear and specific provision for termination by a given date or at the completion of the process for which the agreement was concluded. In general, a sensible rule is to keep the duration of agreements relatively short. The pressure to distort or violate an agreement mounts with time, as the conditions that helped to bring about the agreement change." Berlin is a perfect example.

Finally, the authors admit that "It would be impossible for us to forecast accurately the chances of the Soviet leaders honoring a major political agreement with the free world."

And What's More, They Aren't Pink

All-Out Push for Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL

One of the biggest post-election stories lies in a batch of papers on the desk of a genial chap in a small suite of offices on E. 43rd St. in New York City. He grins when he is joshed about being the best-looking bald-headed man in the land. But he doesn't stop planning.

He is Leo Perlis, director of labor's Community Services Committee. He is preparing a national conference to which he refers as the most unique in modern civilization.

It will be the first official labor parley, when it is held in New York next March, to plan advising labor as it becomes the first proletarian "leisure class." Perlis has consulted with Mr. Labor himself, George Meany. Now Perlis will develop "scientific programs" for the leisure hours of union people "after the official 35-hour week at 40-hours pay is won."

IT LOST MICHIGAN to George Romney, though Walter Reuther had mobilized the usually highly effective battalions of political-battle veterans, the United Automobile Workers' shop stewards.

It lost Pennsylvania and Ohio, where labor's Committee on Political Education specialists are among the brightest strategists in the land.

It was defeated in areas where the AFL-CIO's special Registration Committee, under Roy Reuther's experienced direction, had enrolled millions of new voters from union membership, who in the past had not bothered to vote.

Thus, the White House may soon have its scientific opinion sampler, Lou Harris, out in the field to discover why the old occupied territories had been lost.

What some White House inner-circle strategists want to know, for example, is whether Michigan was lost after 14 years because Walter Reuther had become too identified with Democratic politics.

OR DID the Republican free enterprise policies of such campaigners as George Romney and William Scranton impress the worried workers of the Michigan-Ohio-Pennsylvania industrial belt more than the promise of big central government public works spending programs.

A lot of the working people in the huge mills of the area are worried by automation, by industrialists relocating to "better business climates" and by foreign competition.

Labor's leadership will be saying, quite strenuously from now on, that the answer is a shorter work day, week, month and-or year.

Until now, the White House advisors have said no. But now they'll take another look. They want to know what is moving some of the old supporters away from them before they decide what to advise the President this time.

Dear Ann Landers: You are all wet about wife-spanking. I've been spanking my wife for 10 years and I'm no bully.

I adore the little woman and would never strike her in the face, or cheat on her the way some so-called wonderful husbands cheat on their wives.

Women are not as smart as men and they need guidance. A female who is left to her own devices has a tendency to develop some mighty undesirable traits. A good hard spanking is the most effective method of correcting small faults before they turn into serious ones.

I know couples who argue for hours and nothing is ever settled. Long, drawn-out verbal battles can be nerve-wracking, and time-consuming. Nothing clears the air like turning a wife over your knee and giving her a good sound paddling. If more men tried it there would be fewer divorcees in this country—THE BOSS.

Dear Boss: If more men tried it there would be fewer men in this country. Not all women are lame-brained, lily-livered jellyfish like the pitiful creature you married.

Here and there you'll find a wife who won't stand for the 3-year-old child treatment. The husband who attempts to "guide" her with a paddle may get a little guidance himself—in the form of a healthy klop in the chops.

Take 'Em Home

Dear Ann: I'd be delighted to change places with that Michigan mother who complained because the women in her neighborhood shout like fish wives when they want their children to come home. The ear-piercing "Bonn-nnn-tee-eee" and "Larr-re-eeec" would be music to my ears.

The mothers in my neighborhood turn their kids loose in the morning and don't give them another thought. The youngsters who play with my children act like homeless waifs, come lunch time, nap time and even dinner time. Can you imagine a mother not knowing or caring where her 4 or 5-year-old child is for five or six hours?

I'd be happy to supply the mothers in my neighborhood with cowbells, triangular gongs and even duck calls if they'd use them. I am weary of running a free nursery.—FED UP WITH THE NEIGHBOR'S CHILDREN.

Der Fed: I'd like to suggest a solution even though you didn't ask.

Come lunch time, nap time or what-have-you, escort the little guests home and deliver them personally to mother. Tell her you are sure she must have been worried sick. It shouldn't take more than two such trips to wake up the most apathetic mother.

There follows another approach—and a good one.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thoughts

Be not far from me, for trouble is near and there is none to help.—Psalms 22:11.

There are moments when whatever be the attitude of the body, the soul is on its knees.—Victor Hugo.

Do not forget, and do not turn away from the words of my mouth. Get wisdom; get insight.—Proverbs 4:5.

The clouds may drop down titles and estates, wealth may seek us; but wisdom must be sought.—Edward Young.

So They Say

If nuclear war comes in the future, which God forbid, is it not preferable that it take place in the battlefield of space rather than over the territory of our enemies?

—Lewis L. Strauss, former Atomic Energy Commission chairman, urging military use of space.

Barbs

Your dearest friends are the ones who cost you nothing.

When you think of yourself alone people are likely to leave you that way.

Woman's piece of mind can so easily destroy man's peace of mind.

Word About Traffic Lights

I feel like saying "Amen" to your editorial on the "Unsynchronized Traffic Lights."

Properly-controlled signals certainly are needed and if the police were out on their beats like days of old they could untangle some of the traffic jams that occur. Some drivers still persist in using the wrong lanes but no one ever corrects them.

History Today

Today is Monday, Nov. 12, the 316th day of 1962. There are 49 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1936, the Golden Gate Bridge between San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., was dedicated and opened to traffic. The bridge is the longest in the world over navigable water.

In 1770, the jurist and poet who wrote "Hail Columbia"—Joseph Hopkinson—was born in Philadelphia.

In 1812, Napoleon Bonaparte's armies reached the Russian city of Smolensk in their retreat from Moscow.

In 1921, the conference on limitation of armaments opened in Washington.

In 1945, former U.S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Today's birthdays: Princess Grace of Monaco is 33. Actress Kim Hunter is 40.

Thought for today: There never was in the world two opinions alike, no more than two hairs or two grains; the most universal quality is diversity.—Montaigne.

Matter of Fact

We all call the South Dixie Land, but why? Various reasons are given for this name, one of the most plausible being that it originated with money issued by a bank in New Orleans before the Civil War. On the back of the $10 bills was printed the French word dix; hence the South, particularly Louisiana, became known as land of Dixies and later Dixie Land.

From the Files

10 YEARS AGO—Kenneth Engle has been elected president of the Jersey Breeders Association of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties. Other officers recently named at a meeting in the home of Eldon R. ## Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise: For the other women who insist on smoking and burning holes in their dresses. . . Trim the burned threads with small scissors. Be careful — the smaller the hole the easier it is to hide it. Cut a matching piece of the material from a seam or the hem, slightly larger than the hole itself.

I cut an even larger piece of adhesive tape or iron-on tape and place the patch on it, on the underneath side of the material. Place the matching piece of material over the hole and press lightly with a warm iron. With a little care it will last through many hand washings and ironings for the life of my dresses.

Mrs. Beilhart Hostess to Leetonia Unit

A display of baby pictures was the answer to roll call when members of the Leetonia Chapter of the Child Conservation League met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Beilhart of Columbia St. Ext., Leetonia.

Miss Alice Herriott of East Palestine, a representative of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, spoke to the group on the modern trend in mental health.

She accentuated the fact that mental health is the Number One health problem confronting the country today and physicians are trying to stop institutionalizing mental patients in state hospitals where they are confined for years to accomplish this the Mental Health Association hopes to promote clinics closer together and to encourage psychiatric beds in general hospitals.

The local club is presently engaged in canvassing Leetonia for funds for the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic.

Mrs. Ike Farrah won the door prize at the meeting.

Members discussed a bake sale project to be held after the holidays.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Mellinger.

Members will meet next at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 5 for dinner at Timberlanes, to be followed by a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Glen Otto of the Lisbon - Leetonia Road. Donations for a basket for a needy family are to be brought to the party.

West Branch Board Meeting Postponed
Due to the meeting of the State School Board Association at Columbus Nov. 13-15, the meeting of the Board of Education of the West Branch School District originally scheduled for Tuesday evening has been postponed until Nov. 20 at 8 p.m.

Police Ball Set For November 21

BLANCHE MUTSCHLER
DEAR HELOISE My problem is how to keep bread from becoming stale. There are only two of us and I buy three loaves at a time so that I don't have to go to the store so often.

I keep the loaves in my bread box. By the time we use the last two loaves they are stale and hard. Sometimes one even has mold on it.

We cannot afford to waste food but neither can I go to the store three times a week. Can anyone help us?

RETIRED

Anyone know how to keep bread for a week when they don't have a deep freezer? If so write to Heloise in care of The Salem News. I am sure there are many newlyweds and bachelors who would like this answer too!

HELOISE
DEAR HELOISE: I feel sure that if you print my letter it will help not only the housewife, but the working girl.

Sometimes we get down to our last pair of nylons without runners! Did you know that you could take your stockings off, wash them and rinse them, shake them very hard while holding them about midway where the knee area is, then all you have to do is put them between a bath towel and rub as if you were polishing a table?

These nylons can be put back on immediately. After this is done, I walk around for a few minutes before putting on my shoes.

C.G.

Nope! I did not know this. But I tried it and you are right. You are an angel for sharing this tip.

HELOISE
DEAR HELOISE: Tell me why on-why do women go to all the work to hang a sheet up by the hem? I put the sheet on the line like I would put a blanket on a horse . . . and I cannot see how but it dries all right!

GRANDPA

DEAR HELOISE: When making French toast I sprinkle a little cinnamon in with the egg. This makes the dish have a delicious flavor.

Put a drop of liquid smoke in your baked beans and taste the difference! I use a dash of minced onion, a third of a cup of sugar, a third of a cup of catsup and a can of pork and beans.

Danny Kaye, Lucille Ball Combine for TV Spectacular

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Kaye is probably the most talented and endearing clown currently practicing his art. Lucille Ball is generally conceded to be our premiere comedienne. Throw them together before the television cameras, and the result is bound to be just what it was Sunday night: a delight.

In the hour-long NBC special, Kaye danced, sang and told a droll story in a perfect imitation

LIFESAVER — If this revolutionary idea proves successful, there need never be another great sea disaster like the sinking of the Titanic. Coast Guard divers in Chesapeake Bay test a new lifesaving device which combines a catalyst and a resin in a portable generator to form urethane foam. Shot into a cloth form, the foam expands 30 times into airtight bubbles which quickly solidify into a rigid structure. A proposed use is to create large rescue platforms in the water alongside a sinking ship, to support survivors.

bon post of the Ohio Highway Patrol reported George C. Pebley, 76, of Kensington drove his car into the path of the Rhodes' auto while turning into a private drive.

Pebley, who was uninjured, was driving west, while the Canton car was eastbound. Considerable damage resulted to both autos, neither of which was traveling at excessive speed, the patrol said. Pebley was cited for making an improper turn.

Hanon was hurt Sunday at 1:30 a.m. on Rt. 170, 2 1/2 miles south of Negley when his northbound auto wet off the right side of the road and struck a tree. The patrol arrested him for unsafe operation.

Investigations are still continuing in the Reese accident Sunday at 2:50 a.m. on Rout 30, one mile north of East Liverpool. Reese was the driver of a southbound car that collided with another operated by Ruby E. Hooper, 29, of 245 W. 7th St., East Liverpool.

Evidence Shows Khrushchev Was Helped by Cuban Crisis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Strong evidence from Moscow suggests that Nikita Khrushchev has been helped as much as he has been hurt by the Cuban crisis. Indications are that he will have his way in preparing the U.S.S.R. for a long-pull economic cold war.

Close examination of what went on before, during and after the 45th October Revolution anniversary seems to justify speculation concerning developments of high significance in the global political-economic war.

A picture emerges of Khrushchev as chairman of a collective of Soviet leaders whose theories, doggedly pushed since the de-stalinization congress of 1956, now are being vindicated.

The collective thus has had the opportunity to apply a coup de grace to its internal enemies and turn its attention to Khrushchev's original program. This seemingly was based on the assumption that nuclear war would ruin the Soviet Union, and that the logical course was to prepare for economic war on a world scale.

This does not mean Communists will not grab opportunities where they find them. But it can mean that the overriding policy is "better safe than sorry." It can mean that so long as the United States and the West keep up their guard, caution will be the Kremlin watchword.

The Cuban adventure showed how close Moscow could come to blundering into nuclear war with recklessly warlike policies. It is even possible the missile buildup in Cuba was undertaken against Khrushchev's better judgment, that he was overruled when the decision was made some months ago to go ahead with it.

Indications now are that Khrushchev's side has won whatever debates went on in party councils regarding the decision to pull back the missiles.

Having won that argument, the collective is strengthened in holding back impatient Communists who want aggressive action in West Berlin and elsewhere.

All these things undoubtedly were dealt with during the parade of visits satellite leaders made to Moscow recently.

Principally, the Kremlin seems preoccupied with putting off the time when it might have to take an action which would take the U.S.S.R. beyond the point of no return.

The whole tone of the 45th anniversary celebration was one of moderation.

All this may signify a significant turn in Soviet policy. It can mean that the present Soviet leadership, has decided, with regard to Communist expansion, to make haste a little more slowly, at least while the Western world remains on the alert.

Council To Receive Speed Reduction Bill

An ordinance calling for the reduction of the speed limit from 35 to 25 miles an hour in the Salem City Hospital area is expected to be introduced during the regular session of City Council Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

Among other business at the meeting will be the introduction of an ordinance instructing the safety director, Dr. R. J. McConor, to advertise for bids for traffic control apparatus.

At 4 p.m. Tuesday, councilmen are scheduled to meet in City Hall with Max S. Katz of Chicago, administrator for the Federal Low-cost Housing Program. At Mayor Dean B. Cranmer's request, the federal agent will give the councilmen information needed as they consider the possibility of having public low-rent housing units built in this city at federal expense.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Try to Eliminate Causes of Stress

You have heard a lot about stress in recent years. Although the ways in which stress may cause disease are not yet fully understood, the current trend is to recognize it as one cause of stomach ulcers, increased activity of the thyroid gland, excessively high blood pressure, intestinal ulcers and some forms of arthritis.

Dr. Brandstadt of arthritis. Such widely different factors as infection, intoxication, injury, muscular and nervous fatigue, heat, cold and exposure to X-rays have been grouped together as types of stress. Stress implies either an inner emotional conflict or a conflict with circumstances against which there is no immediate defense.

YOU CAN'T close your eyes and hope that it will go away. The outcome is uncertain and the victim is constantly aware of it, although this awareness may be forced into the subconscious for short intervals.

Different persons show a great deal of difference in their ability to withstand what appears to be the same amount of stress without showing signs of breaking down. It is now known, however, that no one is immune from such a breakdown if the stress is severe enough and sufficiently prolonged.

Sports and war offer situations that are ideal for the study of stress. Sport involves stresses that are voluntarily sought, intermittent and socially acceptable. It imposes stresses on both the body and the mind and increases the capacity for sustained muscular effort.

In combat, too, there is an increased capacity for sustained effort, but, because of the added dangers and the fact that the danger is present day and night, it leads to exhaustion.

THE EFFECTS OF stress are varied and touch every branch of medicine. Prevention, when possible, is better than cure. Removal of the cause is still the best treatment. After that rest, a change of scene and a change of interest are important.

Human beings always will be subjected to stress but the more we can learn about how to deal with it the better off we will be.

Q—How can I get rid of the odor of old sweat in shoes that gets worse the longer I wear them?

A—There is no way to get rid of this odor after it has become imbedded in the leather but much can be done to prevent it. It helps to wash the feet and change the socks daily but this may not be enough. Foot deodorants are available at most drug stores but one simple procedure which cuts down the perspiration is to sprinkle finely powdered alum in the shoes each morning before putting them on.

DESIGN FOR A FAMILY ON A BUDGET—A home which meets the requirements of the growing American family and stays within a budget, is the challenge met in Homes for Americans Plan HA-263P. The entry level, comprising foyer, family room and study or bedroom is slab on grade. This ties in with the garage floor slab. Up three steps are the living room, dining room and kitchen, under which is a basement. A center bearing partition runs down the middle of the house dividing front from rear and enabling the use of light-weight lumber for structural beams. The second floor, three bedrooms and two baths, is directly over the family room, study and foyer, minimizing the foundation wall and roof area. Plan HA263P contains 1,688 square feet of living space and was designed by Samuel Paul, 89-30 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y.

Heating System Know-How Helpful Wherever You Live

The furnace is one of the necessities of life, at least for those of us who live in the north. For those of us who live in the south, it is an almost unknown object. Yet, if we southern folks have a cottage in a cooler clime or even just a hot water tank, the following may contain some interesting hints.

Just because your furnace—if you own one—is working, doesn't mean that it's working efficiently. Like most mechanical things, your furnace will need tuning up now and then. This is also important for your hot water tank. Leave major repairs to those experts who can handle such.

Change Filter

Changing a filter in a forced air heating system is something you can do yourself, however. Check the filter frequently. If you can't see light through it, clean it or change it. But you don't have to wait that long to give it an occasional brushing or vacuuming.

Vacuum registers too. Remove the cover and run the vacuum cleaner attachment down the pipe.

Failure to keep registers clean means more dirt and dust throughout the house and less heat.

Blower Check

Check the belt on the blower. It should give about an inch when you press on it. Replace a belt that shows signs of wear.

Follow manufacturer's instructions in keeping blower lubricated. Oil regularly, but do not over-oil. With steam systems make certain that the radiator shut-off valves are completely open.

Radiator Job

Keep radiators clean. A radiator cover cuts down the amount of heat that will be given off. If you must paint the radiator, do not use aluminum, bronze or other metallic paints. They will cut down on heat emission. Use flat paint. Paint the radiator to match the wall if you like.

A reflective cover on the wall behind the radiator will increase the heat output.

Pipes should slope from radiator to boiler, and the radiator itself should slant toward the out-flow pipe.

Radiators can be slanted correctly by placing small wood blocks underneath.

Radiator valves that do not function properly may be corroded inside. While these can be cleaned by soaking in kerosene, it's a good idea to have a spare or two on hand.

With hot water systems, it is again important to keep radiators clean. The baseboard type of radiator should have a removable cover so that you can brush dust off of the convectors (fins) underneath.

Sedimental Journey
The hot water tank's another story. Sediment may accumulate in your tank just as it does in a water heater. Drawing off a pailful or two of water at regular intervals will keep the system sediment free.

Be sure to bring water back to correct level after draining some off.

Thermostats for any system need little maintenance. Take the cover off occasionally and blow away the dust. If cold air is coming up through the wall in which the thermostat is mounted, pack insulation around the thermostat.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: We had aluminum downspouts and gutters installed about a year ago. There is nothing wrong with them, but we now have decided we'd like to paint them green to harmonize better with the new paint job on our house.

Can we paint right over the aluminum and is some sort of special preparation required?

ANSWER: If the aluminum has been up a year, oil and other contaminants undoubtedly have been washed off. However, the aluminum should be wiped or brushed to remove any other surface dirt.

A conventional primer or sealer may be used as the first coat, but zinc chromate or some other corrosion-inhibiting primer is necessary where extremely corrosive conditions are present. In either case, once the primer has been applied, any good exterior paint can be used for the final coat.

This information has been given in the belief that you are talking about aluminum which had no factory-applied, colored finish. If the aluminum had such a finish, you can paint right over it without a primer provided the original coating is in reasonably good condition, which it certainly should be after only one year.

If the original gloss still exists, then steel wooling or sandpapering is necessary, since new paint will not adhere properly to a glossy surface.

Weatherstripping Will Keep Weather Where It Belongs

If there's an opening around your door of only 1/8 inch and the door is seven feet high and three feet wide, that's the equivalent of a hole of about 20 square inches.

A few holes like that around the house and you would be in a hurry to repair them.

A driving wind will cause the displacement of warm air by cool in any room in short order—no matter how tiny those cracks might seem.

There are other benefits in addition to keeping out the cold. Proper weatherstripping will seal out dust and will aid in keeping your house cool if you air condition it in the summer.

Sundry Materials

Do-it-yourself weatherstripping materials are available in metal, felt, rubber, plastic and combinations of these materials.

Felt weatherstripping is cheapest and the least durable. Use it indoors only since it deteriorates quickly with moisture. Nail, tack or staple it along the framing after making sure that it is snug against the door or window.

More durable is felt with a metal backing. Strips of this material are excellent for the bottom of the door. Fasten through the metal backing so that the strip is on the door with the felt covering the opening between door and floor.

A durable yet flexible weatherstripping is made of sponge rubber or felt in a moisture-proof cover. This usually consists of a flat surface for nailing. Sometimes it contains spring wire which helps to hold it flat.

All of these flexible materials are applied tightly against the opening. Doors close against it, windows slide along it.

On a double-hung window, fasten the weatherstripping on the outside of the frame for the upper sash, on the inside for the lower sash. Placing a piece on the top of the lower sash will cover the crack between the two sashes.

All-metal weatherstripping is made of bronze, is springy and is installed differently. In windows it is installed in the track in which the sash runs.

For doors, fasten the metal on the inside of the jamb so that the door compresses it in closing.

This sort of material is pre-punched for nails and it can be cut with scissors. It's available in large rolls. Make sure your measurement is correct before cutting.

Metal windows present a different problem. Flexible weatherstripping can be applied with an adhesive. Some material comes with an adhesive back. Be sure to clean metal surfaces thoroughly first.

Wise Handyman Picks Right Saw for the Job at Hand

In spite of the popularity of power tools, the ordinary hand-saw—and its variations—is still a very basic and popular tool.

Learning to use a saw isn't difficult. But, as with most tools, there is no all-purpose saw. Pick the right saw to begin with. Know what it can do and use it accordingly.

Buy good quality saws. They will retain their cutting ability longer than a cheap tool.

Two Saws

For cutting wood you will want two ordinary hand-saws.

The crosscut saw does just what its name implies. It cuts across the grain of the wood. There are generally eight or more teeth to the inch.

The more teeth to the inch, the finer the cut. The cross cut saw is a good one to start with. Get one of 26 inches in length.

The rip saw is used for ripping—cutting with the grain. The most popular form of the rip saw is the one with 5 or more teeth per inch. Again, get a 26-inch saw.

Forward Stroke

With either, handsaw cutting is on the forward stroke. Lift the saw slightly on the back stroke to reduce wear. For cross-cutting hold the saw at a 45 degree angle to the wood. For ripping, increase the angle to 60 degrees.

If you are cutting green lumber, lumber that is very resinous, be sure to clean off the resin with turpentine when you finish. Coat with a light film of oil. If you are cutting used lumber make sure there are no nails in the way. You can damage or even break the teeth of the saw.

You will soon discover that handsaws won't do everything. For cutting holes or odd shapes you will need a compass or key-hole saw.

The compass saw is small and pointed, comes in a variety of teeth and lengths. The keyhole saw is generally smaller, has a smaller handle and will take a variety of blades to cut wood, metal, plastic or other materials.

Start cutting by drilling a hole and then inserting the saw to cut away the remainder of the material.

Another Saw

The coping saw is also used for cutting fancy shapes, but its frame makes it more difficult to use in some areas than a compass saw. Its advantage is that it makes an extremely fine cut and can be used on thin material without chewing it up. One reason for this is that the cutting occurs on the backstroke since the teeth of the saw point toward the handle.

The backsaw looks like a short, squared-off handsaw. It has a reinforced back which keeps it rigid and many fine teeth. It is often used with a miter box. Cutting is level rather than at an angle. The rigid back keeps the cut accurate.

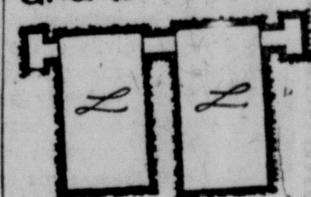

Metal backsaw is used for cutting metal. It has interchangeable blades that range from 14 to 32 teeth per inch. Use fine blades for hard metal, coarse blades for soft metals.

Interference Penalties, Redskins Beat Browns 17-9

Cleveland TD Called Back

Renfro, Groza Score Points In 3rd Frame

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three pass interference calls, a holding penalty and a lackluster offense—all to Cleveland's deficit—stand out as the key factors in the Browns' second loss to the Washington Redskins this season.

Despite another fine defensive effort, the Browns bowed to the Redskins 17-9 Sunday and saw the gap between them and the New York Giants, who lead the National Football League's Eastern Division, widen to 2½ games with only five left to play. The Browns are 4-4-1, the Giants 7-2.

Interference calls against Cleveland paved the way for both Washington touchdowns. A holding penalty in the final quarter canceled a Cleveland touchdown.

The Browns, who trailed 10-0 at the half and later 17-0, scored all their points in the third period on a beautifully executed 65-yard pass play from quarterback Frank Ryan to Ray Renfro and Lou Groza's 28-yard field goal.

Late in the second quarter, Washington scored a touchdown with the aid of two interference calls.

A ruling that Don Fleming interfered against Billy Barnes gave the Redskins a first down on the Cleveland 37. On the next play, Norman Snead lofted a long pass intended for Bobby Mitchell. Fleming and Bernie Parrish converged on their speedy former teammate on the 2 and the ball was dropped. It was ruled interference and then Don Bosseler scored the touchdown.

Jim Kerr intercepted a pass by Ryan a minute later and Washington moved into position for Bob Kuyat's 29-yard field goal.

Ryan fumbled at the start of the second half. Washington's Andy Stynchula recovered it at the Cleveland 33. Cleveland's Jim Shofner was called for interference on Bosseler in the end zone, giving the Redskins a first down at the one, but it took them four plays to score. Bosseler barely vaulted over the goal line.

Soon after Washington's second touchdown, Ryan lofted the long scoring pass to Renfro, who caught the ball on the 12 and raced into the end zone. Groza's extra-point kick was good but it was called back on an offside penalty. His second kick was wide.

In a drive in which Rayn rushed for 27 yards, the Browns reached Washington's 15 - yard line. Renfro dropped a pass on the goal line and the Browns had to settle for Groza's field goal.

In the fourth period, the Browns took over on Washington's 36 after the Redskins had punted. Ryan hit Rich Kreitling for 18 yards and Kreitling ran into the end zone, but a holding penalty nullified the score. Groza's 24 - yard field goal try failed.

Taylor Scores 4 TD's, Eyes NFL Records

Green Bay Blanks Eagles 49-0 For Ninth

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Taylor, the Green Bay Packers' fullback, built like an army tank and combining its fire-power and mobility, is hurtling along toward a pair of National Football League records that may substantiate his own judgment that he is a better fullback than Cleveland's Jimmy Brown.

Taylor scored four touchdowns for the second straight game Sunday and upped his league-leading ground gaining total to 1,075 yards in leading the defending champions to a resounding 49-0 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, a team that had beaten this same group of Packers for the 1960 title.

But Taylor, who wants nothing more than to be recognized as a better fullback than Brown, has drawn a bead on the Cleveland star's season ground-gaining record of 1,527 yards which he set in 1958, the season he led the NFL with 18 touchdowns. This latter record is shared by Steve Van Buren and Elroy Hirsch.

In pacing Green Bay to its ninth win without a loss this season, and 17th in all competition since last season, Taylor has amassed 14 touchdowns to add the current scoring leadership to his ever-growing list of credits.

The victory kept Green Bay alone atop the Western Conference, with perhaps a second title match in a row in store with the New York Giants. The Giants stayed a full game in front of the Eastern Conference with a 41-10 victory over the Dallas Cowboys, while second-place Washington defeated Cleveland 17-9. New York is 7-2 and the Redskins 5-2-2.

Pittsburgh (5-4) stayed in the Eastern fight with a 27-17 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. Dallas and Cleveland are all but finished with 4-4-1 records.

Detroit remained two games in back of the Packers with a 38-24 win over the San Francisco 49ers in the dimming Western race. Baltimore handed Los Angeles coach Harland Sware his first loss 14-2 and Roger LaClerc's 17-yard field goal in the final 13 seconds pulled the Chicago Bears over Minnesota 31-30.

In the American League, Dallas took over the Western Division lead with a 52-31 victory over New York as Boston beat erstwhile leader Denver 33-29. Buffalo defeated San Diego 40-20 and Houston kept Oakland winless, 28-20.

Quarterback Y. A. Tittle, half-back Frank Gifford and end Del Shofner, plus the loss of Eddie LeBaron did in the Cowboys. Tittle upped his league-leading passing yardage to 2,331 with 315 and his TD passing lead to 22, hitting Shofner twice and Gifford once.

LeBaron was lost on the game's first series of plays and Don Meredith guided the Cowboys the rest of the way.

The Washington offense held Brown to only 27 yards rushing, and cashed in on three pass interference calls for touchdowns by Don Bosseler.

John Henry Johnson, the NFL's No. 2 rusher, gained 138 yards against the Cardinals (2-6-1) and scored the clinching TD in a 17-point fourth period.

Sware, who took over this week for Bob Waterfield, found his Rams (1-8) still puncheon as they twice failed to score from inside the Colts 5-yard line. Johnny Unitas 233 yards passing led to both Baltimore (5-4) scores.

OSU Faces Tough Oregon Foe Next

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, after a shaky 10-7 win over the 18-point underdog Hoosiers of Indiana, face another menace Saturday in the Webfoots of Oregon.

Coach Len Casanova, 10-7 loser to the Ducks in the 1958 Rose Bowl and a 22-12 victim last year, has his West Coast club on the move. The Webfoots have a 6-1 record to Ohio State's 4-3, have outscored the foe 205-110 to Ohio's 151-91, and figure to be tougher than the Hoosiers, who dropped their 19th straight Big Ten game.

Oregon was beaten 25-13 by highly-ranked Texas in the opener but hasn't bowed since. In Mel Renfro the Webfoots have one of the finest running and pass-snagging halfbacks in the country.

Dick Van Raaphorst's 27 - yard field goal with only eight seconds remaining provided the margin Saturday as the Bucks beat the surprising Hoosiers. Junior half-back Paul Warfield's 75 - yard touchdown dash over tackle — longest scrimmage run of the year for the Bucks—gave Ohio an early edge. But the Indiana never-say-die team, headed by halfback Marv Woodson who carried for 101 yards, tied it up on a 72-yard drive.

Joe Sparma completed four of seven straight passes to get the Bucks in position for the payoff three-pointer—the aerial splurge coming after Sandusky's Ben Espy had moved Ohio to near midfield with a 19-yard run.

Elsewhere on the Buckeye front, Bowling Green wrapped up the Mid-American Conference crown again by beating Ohio University 7-6, and Wittenberg repeated as Ohio Conference king with a 17-6 verdict over Akron.

Senior Asa Elsea, for the second straight year, booted the conversion as the Falcons nosed out the Frank Clarke of the Dallas Cowboys led National Football League scorers with 66 points after six games. Green Bay's Paul Hornung was second with 62.

Bears Wrap Up Season Final With 20-8 Win

Allen Vignon dashed 85 yards with the opening kickoff for a touchdown and Leetona went on to trim Canfield 20-8 last Saturday night.

It was the final game of the campaign for both schools.

The Bears finished with a 5-4-1 record. Canfield completed its campaign with a 4-6 mark.

Vrable caught a 40-yard pass from Guerrier in the third session.

Evans caught a 15-yard touchdown from Ort for Canfield's only TD in the final frame.

San Diego Loses 5th In Row

Dallas, Denver In Scrap For AFL Division Title

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dallas and Denver are on the brink of a ding-dong fight to determine the American Football League's Western Division champion, and it's a good bet that the Boston Patriots have at least a rooting interest in the Broncos.

Dallas leads the West by one-half game over the Broncos after lacing the New York Titans 52-31 Sunday while Boston was beating Denver for the second time this season, 33-29. The Pats' victory kept them one-half game ahead of the defending league champion Houston Oilers, who defeated the Oakland Raiders 28-20.

San Diego, two-time Western titlist, lost its fifth straight 40-20 to the Buffalo Bills, who haven't lost in the last five games.

Boston has its own work to do, facing the Oilers in Houston. The Pats already own a 34-21 victory over Houston, but have lost their two 1962 contests against the Texans by convincing scores of 42-28 and 27-7.

The Texans (7-2) used their usual combination of Len Dawson's passing and the running of Abner Haynes and rookie Curtis McCClinton to finally down the Titans (4-6).

Boston's fourth period spurt on Ron Burton's 91-yard run and the fourth field goal by Gino Capelletti beat Denver (7-3).

The Bills (4-5-1) rolled to a 37-0 lead over the Chargers (3-7) at halftime and have now won four first five games.

Houston (6-3) handed the Raiders their ninth loss and 15th in a row since last year with a 14-point spurt in the last quarter 20-14.

Snead, Palmer Win Third Canada Cup

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—The United States possessed its third straight Canada Cup golf crown today but the American tandem of Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead almost lost it on the treacherous 10th hole of the Jockey Club course.

Hole No. 10 is a par 4, 466-yard dogleg to the right which appears harmless enough but is lined with hidden obstacles.

It was there that Palmer three-putted for a bogey 5. Snead did even worse. The slammer from the West Virginia hills hooked his drive near the towering pine trees slammed an iron shot over the back of the green, hit a bank trying to reach the velvet and wound up with a 6.

Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo won the individual championship with a final round 68, two under-par for the 6,746-yard layout.

Snead, who had led the tournament during its first three days, skyrocketed to a closing 74 Sunday firing four bogies in addition to the double bogey.

Palmer's 1-under-par 69 protected the lead of the Americans, who finished with an over-all score of 557 for the 72-hole test for the cream of the stars from 33 nations. The grand total left Palmer and Snead two strokes ahead of De Vincenzo and Fidel DeLuca who fashioned a 559 total.

Australia trailed the Argentines in third with 569. England was fourth with 572 and France fifth with 585.

Browns Have Plane Trouble, Are Late

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were two hours late arriving from Washington Sunday night because of plane trouble.

Their charter flight was delayed in the nation's capital when there was an indication of a fire in the No. 1 engine as the plane was taxiing down the runway.

A flame shot out of the engine and the pilot quickly punched the automatic extinguisher, stopping the engine. The plane returned to the hangar, but the Browns stayed aboard until all danger had passed. They later transferred to another plane for the flight home.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The boys and girls in our beautiful big meat department are doing a very fine job. We are getting a lot of nice compliments on this department. Kenny Knox and George Eells do the cutting and Marion Unger and Betty Lake are the expert wrappers. We are told they are two of the best girls in our entire IGA group of stores.

This fine group of people are ready, willing and able to serve you well.

Questions—Answers

Q—Is the Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln still in existence?
A—Yes. In 1864 the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later the New York Legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.
